19. In the space below, explain the exact distinction between a biped and a quadruped using their numerical prefixes (bi- vs. quadr-) and the root ped:

EXERCISE D: ORTHOGRAPHY & MORPHOLOGICAL DEDUCTIONS

Directions: Master the critical Latin participle suffix -ent (from Latin -ens) and root etymologies to resolve common spelling and conceptual pitfalls.

Orthography Check: Write the letter of the correct spelling in the bracket blank:

20. Select the correct spelling of the adjective meaning 'relying on another': [A] dependent [B] dependant [_____]

21. Select the correct spelling of the adjective meaning 'pausing at intervals': [A] intermittant [B] intermittent [_____]

22. Root Clue (pend): The Latin root pend signifies 'to hang, weigh.' Explain how a person who is dependent on another is figuratively 'hanging' upon them for support:

23. Prefix Clue (inter-): The prefix inter- denotes 'between, among' and mittere means 'to send or let go.' How does this explain why an intermittent stream or breeze stops and starts at intervals?

24. Applied Composition: Compose a single, complete sentence correctly utilizing BOTH intermittent and dependent in meaningful context:
